Limited Text Revision Approved for Window-Coverings Standard

New York NY, July 29, 2014 – The Window Covering Manufacturers Association (WCMA) announced today the approval of a limited text revision to ANSI/WCMA A100.1-2012 for Safety of Corded Window Covering Products.

The latest revision, ANSI/WCMA A100.1-2014, was developed in accordance with American National Standards Institute's 'Recommendation for Efficient Standards Development'. Utilizing the 30-day public review option, WCMA proposed limited revisions to the approved ANS, ANSI/WCMA A100.1-2012 for Safety of Corded Window Covering Products.

The revisions to ANSI/WCMA A100.1-2012 are limited to descriptive text found in Appendix E, Figure E1, Row 3 only and were approved by ANSI on July 21, 2014. The same or similar document will undergo the full standards development process set forth in the WCMA's accredited procedures.
